Louisa County Deed Books A-D - 1742 - 1774

Hanover County was formed in 1721 from New Kent Co. and Louisa Co. was formed in 1742 from Hanover. Fredericksville Parish was formed in 1742 from St. Martin's Parish and was all in Louisa in 1742. After 1757 Fredericksville Parish also took in a portion of Albemarle Co. After 1742 a small part of Louisa Co. remained St. Martin's Parish. In 1757 a large part of St. Anne's Parish (Albemarle) was added to Fredericksville Parish. In 1761 Fredericksville Parish was divided into two parishes and Trinity Parish was formed.
(All parties are of Fredericksville Parish, Louisa Co. unless stated otherwise)

1742 - Patrick BARCLAY, King & Queen Co., merchant; Colonel John MARTIN & Elizabeth MARTIN, spinster, dau. of said John. A marriage intended to be solemized between Patrick & Eliza. John by deed of gift settled upon Eliza. 600 acres in Goochland Co. on James River & slave, Esther. Also, gave Patrick 400 pounds sterling. BARCLEY granted MARTIN 900 acres in Hanover Co. which BARCLEY had recently purchased of Wm. JOHNSON, decd. recorded in Hanover and 20 slaves.

1742 - Philip WILSON to James COLEMAN of St. Thomas' Parish, Orange Co., Gent., 400 acres...WILSON's deed had been proved in Hanover Co. by Joseph MARTIN and Ambrose Joshua SMITH.

1744 - Joseph MARTIN to Ambrose Joshua SMITH, 350 pounds tobacco, 13 ac. at first fork of Pritty's Creek in Fred. Parish called Turkey Run to SMITH's line; part of 1,626 acres acknowledged to said MARTIN by deed from Thomas CARR, late of Caroline Co., Gent., decd. on 3 Nov. 1732.

1744 - Joseph MARTIN to Charles SMITH £10, 200 acres on west side of Little Mts., CRADDOCK's line, William CARR's corner, MARTIN's corner, Timothy DALTON's line.

1745 - Joseph MARTIN to Wm. HALE for 800 lbs. tobacco, 100 acres on both sides of Turkey RUN & west side of Little Mts...Ambrose Joshua SMITH line. Wit: A. J. SMITH, John COOK, Jos. KEATTON.

St. Peter's Parish

In 1634 the Colony of Virginia was divided into eight shires. Charles River County was one of these eight original shires. Charles River Co. included all land on both sides of the York River. The southern boundary roughly followed the Chickahominy River; the southwestern boundary was Henrico County; the western boundary was the Blue Ridge Mountains; the northern boundary was Maryland; and the eastern boundary was the Chesapeake Bay. In 1643 Charles River County was changed to York County.

New Kent County was formed in 1654 from York County. The upper part of York County between the Pamunkey and Mattaponie rivers became New Kent. In 1691 King & Queen County came out of New Kent and in 1701 King William County came out of King & Queen. [1]

All the best evidence shows that Blisland Parish was formed about the same time as New Kent County and was coterminous with it. A very small part of Blisland Parish fell into James City County.

ST. PETER'S PARISH was formed in 1679 from Blisland Parish (New Kent Co.). In 1704 St. Peter's Parish was divided and the northwest portion became St. Paul's Parish. In 1691 the northeast portion of St. Peter's Parish became St. John's Parish.

Because of the changing of boundaries of these counties and parishes the Martins recorded in the St. Peter's Parish Register would have lived in New Kent County or on the fringes of Hanover, King William and King & Queen counties.

Goochland County & St. James' Parish

The records of Goochland County and St. James' Parish are the key that unlocks the door and gives the progenitors of most of the Martin families who migrated to Georgia, South Carolina, and early Kentucky. Some went to North Carolina for a generation, but many went directly from the Goochland area to new lands.

In 1720 Henrico Parish (Henrico County) was divided into two parishes. St. James' Parish (Henrico County) was created and the southern part on both sides of the James River was to be St. James' Parish (Henrico Co.). In 1728 Goochland County was formed from Henrico County and all of St. James' Parish was in Goochland. St. James' Parish had an indefinite western boundary.

In 1744 Goochland County, VA was divided and St. James' Parish was divided into three parishes. St. James-Northam Parish north of the James River stayed Goochland county. The western part of Goochland became Albemarle County (St. Anne's Parish). And, St. James' Parish south of the James River became St. James-Southam Parish which became Cumberland County in 1749.

The boundary of Goochland County will be important when the deeds of Goochland and Albemarle Counties are given in the next issue. In 1728 Goochland was bounded on the north by the James River beginning at the mouth of Tuckahoe Creek and up Tuckahoe Creek to Chumley's Branch and then along a line of marked trees north 20 degrees east to Hanover Co. And, at the south side of James River beginning at lower Manachin Creek along a line of marked trees in a line to the mouth of Skinquarter Creek on the Appomatox River. The part of the county lying south of said line was Henrico County. The part of the county lying north of said line was Goochland County. [1]

GOOCHLAND TITHES 1735-1749 [3]

A tithe was a tax to support the expenses of the county. It paid the burgesses salaries, cared for the poor, etc.
The tithes in Virginia supported the parish church and minister. The indented names under the tithable were (1) when a child first reached 16 or 21 years of age he was first listed on the tithable list; (2) other indented names under the tithable could be an attorney for someone owning land in the parish, but not living in the parish or county; (3) an overseer; (4) or an indented servant. In most counties ministers and constables were exempted from the tithe beginning in 1748 [4].

In this tithe list for Goochland County some of the Martins lived in Southam Parish (St. James-Southam Parish) which was cut off into Cumberland County in 1749.

Notice that in 1744 Mary Anne MARTIN is listed under King William Parish with 7 tithes. From about 1728 to 1749 King William Parish was Henrico and Goochland counties. In 1749 King William was cut off into Cumberland County. King William Parish was formed about 1700 above the falls of the James River near Manakin town on south side of the river. This was the parish set aside for the French Huguenots. They were able to have their own church and pastor and set their own tithes. When Goochland County was formed in 1728 most of King William Parish fell in Goochland. This parish was never part of any other parish. After 1777 King William Parish was in Powhatan County.

ALBEMARLE COUNTY

Albemarle County was formed in 1744 from Goochland County. Albemarle became everything above a line from the fork of the James River north 30° east to Louisa County line and to the Appomattox River. In 1761 a small part of Louisa County was added to Albemarle. This part of Louisa was below the Rockfish River. Albemarle originally extended to the Blue Ridge Mountains.

In 1753 Bedford County was formed and its northern half came from Albemarle. From Bedford County came Campbell Co. in 1781 and Franklin Co. in 1785. In 1758 Amherst and Buckingham Counties were cut out of Albemarle and in 1777, Fluvanna County. The later counties will be studied at a later date.

There are very few Albemarle deeds from its formation in 1744 until 1748. Deeds begin in 1748 but there is a gap from 1752-1759 in Deed Books 1-3. Albemarle wills are extant from 1748 and marriages from 1780. The first place to look for records before 1748 would be in Goochland, Louisa or Hanover counties.

With this issue we begin the study of the Martins of Virginia before 1800. In the coming issues we will publish all the Martin records we have on Virginia. We are going to prove as many Martin lineages as possible with the extant deeds, wills, administrations, marriage bonds and Bible records. All records will not be Virginia, however. We are going to crisscross back and forth between Virginia and all other states showing which families migrated where and when. New England, Penn., Ohio, Ind. and Ill. will also be incorporated into this study.

We will also present Martin statewide census records for each state as they are completed. Some states are almost complete, but lack just a few counties. In many cases we have had great difficulty in this project because some microfilms cannot be read because of poor quality and additional copies must be ordered.
